PICTURES (1) >> SX-70 BLEND COMPARED TO 600

The new SX-70 BLEND has different characteristics than the SX-70 original and is different from regular 600 Film. The special “blue-blend” reagent of the SX-70 BLEND is responsible for results that have a very strong and fascinating photographic appearance, different from any film that Polaroid produced so far. Compared to 600 film (SX-70 camera with attached ND-Lens-Filter) SX-70 BLEND Polaroids (integrated ND-Filter) impress with beautifully balanced saturation and brighter whites.

PICTURES (2) >> SX-70 BLEND COMPARED TO SX-70 ORIGINAL

Compared to original SX-70 film, the new SX-70 BLEND has brighter whites and colours, less pastel tones and more contrast. SX-70 BLEND film gives a more constant impression, taking up to three times longer to develop (up to 4 minutes). SX-70 BLEND was not invented to copy the original but to present a new Polaroid film with ourstanding characteristics and high quality for all photographers that are in love with their amazing SX-70 cameras.

PICTURES (5) >> SX-70 BLEND HAS MANY FACES

The new SX-70 BLEND develops an almost unlimited variety of characteristics and moods under different light settings/ exposure times/ cameras. These Polaroids are just a small collection of different results achieved with the new SX-70 BLEND film and an original SX-70 camera from 1973. In a digital age, this new Polaroid film is a strong sign of the fact, that instant photography is still alive, inviting photographer all over the world to experiment with a new medium build around Dr. Lands magic inventions.
